Problems

1. Actual libraries survey took place sufficiently long time.
2. The survey was performed by post. This type of information collection is one of the most complicated ones, however librarians were interested to participate in this survey, therefore the response is really good.
3. Many librarians, which do not have internet connection, did not fill in this questionnaire because they thought it was not worth to fill it, if you did not have internet connection. A part of librarians, who did not have internet, phoned and asked if it was worth to fill it (3 calls per day), the other did not fill it and it was necessary to seek them, the third ones sent blank questionnaire forms and it prolonged the period of research.
4. The survey also took place in summer time, therefore many librarians are on holidays or on study holidays.
5. There were questionnaires, which were filled with mistakes. It was necessary to phone and ask questions once more. The main mistake- they do not understand entries and fill them wrong or do not fill them at all.
6. The information about internet connection at the beginning of the year differed, therefore we could compare it, only when we received questionnaires, we could compare them and phone the respondents to ask the question 9 of the questionnaire. Doing it later, a part of libraries were unattainable.

Offers:

1. To realize this survey via the library consultants, it would be better, that all the libraries gathered and filled the questionnaire together, in such a way we would receive a major part of the questionnaires together. The consultant would instruct how to fill in the questionnaire and it would improve the quality of the filled questionnaires, it would not be necessary to phone once again. We heard from several consultants that they had organized meetings with all the librarians, lead by them, and filled in the actual questionnaire together, the others said that it would be easier to fill in the questionnaires by themselves because libraries asked the consultants many questionnaires.
2. Information quality is considered as one of the reasons, why information collection should be handed over to consultants. A considerable part of the librarians did not understand the questionnaire and did not fill it properly. Research period becomes longer, when hundreds of questionnaires are revised.

1.6 Quality control

The survey of JSC „RAIT“ is performed following ESOMAR requirements.

Work control is carried on during all the stages of the survey process:

- information collection;
- information input;
- information coding.

During the inspection of the interviewers' job quality, a second contact is made with 20 percent of the respondents by telephone, the principles of respondents selection and questionnaire requirements observance are checked.

Information input and administration. Information input department inspects the quality of 20 percent of the questionnaires input. Input and logics mistakes are checked by SPSS software.
